

Security experts reap rewards for earning trust through exceptional service

MANCHESTER businesses are enjoying even greater peace of mind now that Knight Owl Security has alighted in the city.

The Chester-based specialist security services provider expanded into the area at the end of last year and is now standing protective watch over increasing numbers of local organisations.

For founder Matthew Davies, a security industry veteran of nearly 25 years, the new Manchester office is the latest chapter for his business that also has a base in Wrexham and provides professional competitive services throughout Deeside, North Wales, Welshpool, Oswestry, Shropshire, Liverpool, Warrington and further across the UK if required.

"I think this new venture has a lot of potential and I'm really looking forward to what the coming year will bring," predicts Matthew who still likes to leave his desk to work alongside other members of his patrol teams.

"We get a lot of business through word of mouth and many have heard about us already and the personal service we offer. If you contact us you will come straight through to me and if you need to leave a message I will call or email back directly."

Businesses who have a security guard at their business premises reap the benefits of peace of mind and a sense of security for the owner, employees and customers, and the presence of such is in itself a great deterrent to crime - even more so than camera surveillance.

"It sends a message to potential criminals that you are serious about the security of your business," points out Matthew who also doesn't underestimate guards' role as customer service ambassadors.

"They may be at a front desk or control access to an area meaning there is a substantial amount of interaction with customers and clients," he explains. "Guards can help direct people to find products and get to the right location in a business or accompany customers and employees to their cars after dark."

Knight Owl Security's mission is to provide the best possible security at the lowest cost with satisfaction guaranteed.

All services are covered, from static manned guarding to mobile patrols with lock up and unlock service, key holding, dog handlers, alarm responses to door supervisors, retail security (including construction) and traveller evictions.

Festivals, weddings, private parties or corporate functions are also part of the remit and Knight Owl always provides personnel who not only conform to industry standards, have SIA badges, fully screened backgrounds and a checkable work history, but are skilled in first aid and vastly experienced.

"You can be confident in the quality and dependability of our security guard services which are tailored to your individual requirements," assures Matthew. "We are safe contractor, SMAS Worksafe and also hold Chas contractor accreditation within all the sectors we supply."

Knight Owl Security provides a free consultation service to oversee your existing security arrangements, and can offer expert guidance and advice on how they could be improved.
